URANUS in Taurus - May 16, 2018 to April 26, 2026

Uranus was discovered on March 13th 1781 by a Scorpio, the astronomer William Herschel, while he was looking through a telescope for double stars. It was the first planet to be discovered using a telescope and thus with Neptune and Pluto these planets are called “the Transpersonal Planets” because they can’t be seen with the naked eye. Despite the fact that Astronomers had carried on the tradition of the early star gazers of naming planets after the Roman Gods, the new planet was named after a Greek God, Uranus, probably because in myth Uranus was the father of Saturn and the grandfather of Jupiter, thus keeping the lineage intact! But how typical: Uranus is always the unusual and unexpected so its name is Greek instead of Roman! Also it (and Venus) revolves in the opposite direction around its axis than the other planets, adding to its individuality (to name just two of its eccentricities!). Its reputation for revolutionary ideas and technology is due to the time of its discovery: the American Revolution and the Industrial Revolution were happening at the same time.

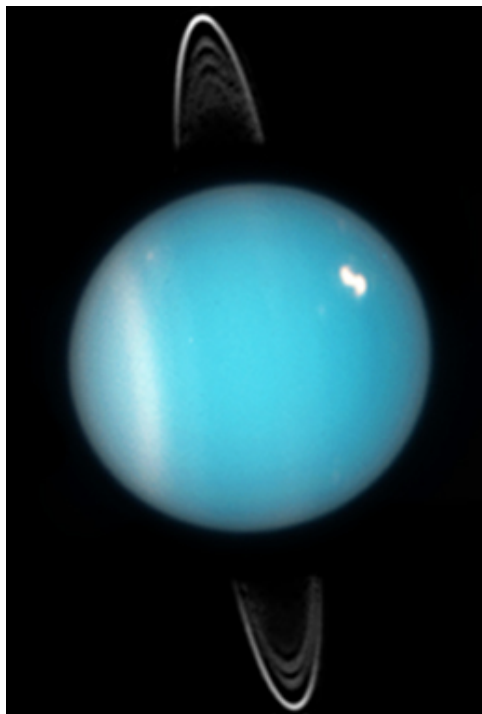

For such a recently discovered planet, we have certainly received from it an abundance of changes. And certainly that is one of the things that Uranus can be counted on to give: change and especially unexpected change. On a personal level, Uranus shows where a person wants freedom and individuality. It also indicates one’s intuitive nature, even brilliance if there is any, and consequently the ability to solve life’s problems. The great life-changing ideas, like electricity, astrophysics, significant health advances, etc, have all come from the intuitive nature of Uranus.

In Taurus, Uranus takes on a bit more stability and endurance. Taurus is an earth sign, ruled by Venus. It is practical, sensuous, earthy and artistic. It also has stamina and determination. The bull is its ruling animal. Remember the childhood story of “Ferdinand the Bull?” He was happy and docile until he got disturbed, then he raged.

The last time Uranus was in Taurus was between 1934 and 1942. Although Uranium (#92 on the periodic table) was discovered in 1789, Neptunium (#93) and Plutonium (#94) were discovered in 1940 and were so named to continue with the series begun with Uranium. All this made possible the discovery of nuclear fission, another Uranus in Taurus advancement, and the Manhattan Project. And because of WWII, women entered the market place and economic theories were revised.

Do you see some parallels to the current Uranus in Taurus? The one that comes to mind right away is the #Metoo revolution. We live in a left-brained male dominated world, especially notable with the Pluto / Saturn conjunction in Capricorn. The singular Goat has ascended to the top of the mountain. His aloofness disallows any compassionate interference. But the Bull is enraged.

Another area of interest is in the field of technology, an area assigned to Uranus. We already have the internet. Yes there are all kinds of problems currently being discussed but they deal more with the use of it, which is more of a Pisces issue. Uranus is responsible for the technology and intellectual advancement and associated with that is the use of satellites. Half of the world has no internet connections at all! Consequently there is a huge push to increase the availability of internet connections though the use of thousands of satellites orbiting low in space in a mesh like pattern, providing high speed Internet globally. It is called, ironically, LEO and could connect all the peoples of the earth, a Uranian principle, and it can also change monetary outcomes due to the speed of connecting various parts of the world, a typical Taurus interest.

Other areas of tech advancement is the use of robotics for utilitarian purposes. Have you heard of FRC, First Robotic Competition? It's a national competition for high schoolers to learn how to make and operate a robot.

Also self-driving cars are sure to be operable before Uranus leaves Taurus and artificial intelligence is also on the rise. In other words, whatever is practical technology is a Uranus in Taurus objective.

And a third area concerns global change. It includes the problems of plastic in the oceans, use of fossil fuels, trash and recycling, artifacts in the atmosphere as well as apparent weather changes. See the Spring Calendar for the influence of Neptune in this area.

Herschel's chart is worth mentioning. He had a Scorpio Sun with the Moon in Capricorn conjunct Uranus: a probing mind with an intuitive scientific bent that was also determined and steadfast. After making his first telescope he continued to search the skies for double stars for 8 years before accidentally finding the new planet, later named Uranus. He was actually trained as a musician and earned his money as a conductor. Besides finding Uranus and many other astral phenomena, he is also the discoverer of electromagnetic radiation, the infrared spectrum, and spectrophotometry. A true Uranian type!

Spring Calendar

The Spring equinox occurs on March 19th, at 9:49 pm here in Santa Fe. Days and nights are equal, or sort of, depending on what Latitude you live on. Here our day will be 12 hours and 7 minutes. The Sun has entered Aries and in ancient astrology this was considered the beginning of the new year. So many, if not all, our holidays are centered around the astrological calendar and the understanding of the need for survival as experienced by the Druids and Celts! Many of the ancient standing stones are witness to the knowledge that the ancient ones had concerning the movement of the Sun. Have you ever wondered why Easter is the first Sunday after the Full Moon after the spring equinox?

On this first day of Spring we have 4 planets in Capricorn. Besides the well known Saturn / Pluto conjunction, of which I have written extensively, Jupiter and Mars have joined the mix. This is a lot of energy available to complete a task. Mars will move into Aquarius on March 31st, but Jupiter and Pluto will stay in Capricorn during this quarter. Jupiter in Capricorn is stable and practical and much can be accomplished. Saturn makes a temporary move into Aquarius on the 22nd of March but will return to Capricorn in June. BTW Pluto and Saturn will come very close to another conjunction in the late summer.

Well, by now you know that Uranus is in Taurus and will be for another 6 years. Uranus ALWAYS has an unpredictable quality and if you love change then you will be watching Uranus with great interest, as I am!

Another planet that especially intrigues me just now is Neptune. It rules the 12th house in a horoscope and is a very complex energy field as it encompasses a little bit of all the other signs. It rules meditation, selfless-service, self-undoing, addictions, terminal illnesses, higher art forms, fog, deception, and fraud. Its ruling constellation is Pisces, whose glyph is two fish moving in opposite directions, but tied together by a silver cord. But now I'm writing about Neptune as it affects our planet. In other words, Neptune as a mundane planet. Mundane astrology is the study of the astral effects on the world in general. In this context, Neptune represents democratic political movements, changing popular opinions, the influence of the people, and even illusionary popularity. It is also criminal activity, vice, scandal, dishonesty, and downfall. In the chart of the birth of the United States, Pisces is currently in the first house of the people and is making a square to Saturn in the 10th house of the president and the government. The square causes fear, distrust and paranoia.

There is a lot of that these days in our country due to political unrest and now the fear of the corona virus. The corona virus news is everywhere every day. We have no incidence of it here in New Mexico, but the local Costco store is telling everyone to stock up on toilet paper! Neptune in the first house also indicates the ongoing opioid problem as well as other drugs. We are a people that love to take pills, but this negative energy is indicating that that is harming the people.

Attitudes about global change is another Neptunian issue. Neptune is confusion, fog. How thick does fog have to be on the road before you stop? This is similar to the world's understanding and agreements of causes, results, and corrections of global change. How bad does it have to be? Even if you are not an advocate of weather change, certainly there is a problem with air quality and water quality and both are interests of Neptune and Pisces.

Another reason Transiting Neptune interests me is because of its current placement in Donald Trump's chart. It is in his 7th house of mutual relationships and team playing; and is making squares to his Uranus, his Nodes and his Sun and Moon, and even his Solar Arc transited Mercury, and will be until at least March of 2022! He was born with an afflicted Neptune as it squares Mercury, the propensity for lying, loose tongue, and babbling. Twitter is the perfect vehicle for that energy. I have written extensively about Trump's Nodal connection to his Eclipse. We see some of this in the problem he has with trusted officials in his team. So many firings, hirings, blame, and obfuscation. This current subtle energy change is big for him and could alter public opinion. Could it alter the election in November? Unfortunately I can't say because the Saturn / Pluto conjunction is occurring in the US chart in the 12th house at the same time, the sector of crime and secret societies. There is much going on that is secret and not made public. Remember the prediction of my Teacher? "We will all go to sleep like Rip Van Winkle and when we awake and return to the cities we will find they are run by the nine years young."

Around June 20th, look for the next edition of Longevity Circuit. In the mean time, may your Spring be filled with growth and beauty.

Update! Recording Changes

In addition to doing readings on Skype or FaceTime which lets us see each other and record to a CD, I can also provide an MP3 electronically. The way of the cassette is antiquated and so many of you don't have players for them anymore and certainly not in your cars. Even CDs are rapidly becoming obsolete! I encourage you to download the free Skype app (or use FaceTime which is already included with every iPhone, iPad, and Mac computer) and get someone to show you how easy it is to use, if you don't know already. It is so enjoyable to see your face when we do the readings! Doing this new stuff is nervy to me, too, but it's a great challenge to stay current with all the new technologies.

Reminder: An archive of all Longevity Circuit newsletters for the past 31 years are available on my website!

And on June 20th, look for the next issue of Longevity Circuit!
