Money

After 37 years of writing this newsletter, finding new topics is a challenge. But a promise to Adano is a promise so here I am. I asked Paul, my husband, if he had any suggestions. "Write about money," he said. So here we go!

Actually Astrology has quite a bit to say about money. Thousands of years ago, when astrology was first discovered, it was called Mundane Astrology because it only was used for the needs of the king and the people he was ruling. So a significant amount of information for that type of astrology is available. But today most astrologers are asked to read the charts of individuals which is a very different kind of astrology. I will share both kinds.

When reading for an individual, his needs and neuroses must be explored. For instance, a person with Saturn square his Moon or Sun might be stingy, destitute, or controlling. A Jupiter square could indicate just the opposite, even overspending recklessness. Sun square Venus could be a person who spends all their money on beauty products, clothing, and needing to look good all the time, self-absorbed. And there are many more examples. Once we get that out of the way, then we're able to look at the availability or absence of money in the personal chart. In the early days when I first began doing astrology as a career, I overlooked doing that. I read for a young man who had excellent possibilities for making money in his natal chart. I told him so, without bothering to look more specifically at his attitudes toward money. Several months later, he came back and was angry with me because he still did not have the amount of money he had hoped to acquire. But after some probing questions, it was clear that he had been reckless, careless, and in too big hurry to accomplish anything worthwhile. It was a big lesson for me. Since then, I always look at the basic personality of the person who is asking the money question.

For example, I decided to look at Warren Buffet's chart. At first, I was going to look at Donald Trump's chart, but after analyzing the placement of his planets, I realized that astrologers have the wrong birth time for him. Consequently, I decided to use the chart of somebody with impeccable credentials, Warren Buffett. And after looking at his chart, it is clear he was being honest about his birth time. The two major Houses regarding money are the Second and the Eighth. The Second House is usually the money you make yourself and the Eighth House is the money you are given by inheritance, marriage, or something similar. Buffet's 2nd House is empty, and the 8th has his Sun conjunct Neptune. This makes sense, Buffett had early successes due to family money. His father was an investment banker and congressman who I'm sure invested in his son. Continued success is revealed with Pluto and Jupiter conjunct in Cancer in the 7th House indicating relationships with powerful men. And Venus and Libra conjunct his Midheaven, indicating success in business. Even his Moon in Sagittarius indicates luck, positivity, and challenge. He fully retires as I write this, but leaves Chairman of the Board to his son!

MUNDANE MONEY

So how do we look at money in mundane terms? We don't have a king in our country (only a wannabe), so we'll look at the chart of the Yorktown Treaty because that indicates a fait accompli, when the country became independent, was birthed, so to speak. We still look at Houses 2 and 8, but now, applying that information to the citizens of the country in the Second House, we find the North Node. This is a good sign, indicating that individuals are free to make their own money. And in the Eighth House we find the Sun, which is excellent in terms of the country as a whole having the resources necessary to care for the country. The Ninth House is full of planets: Venus, Moon, Jupiter, and Mercury! Entrepreneurial-ship, education, and religious freedom are all indicated by this placement of planets.

The Fifth House is money earned from lotteries and creativity and the US has Uranus located there. Uranus is the planet of the unexpected, the creative, and the intuitive. It is interesting to note that the United States was the originator of AI at Dartmouth College, quite fitting for this planet and its location.

The 10th House is a money House in Mundane Astrology because it indicates the money that a person earns from his business. Saturn is here in Sagittarius indicating that with hard work there can be financial satisfaction. The 10th House applies to the President, and Saturn here in Sagittarius indicates both good and bad presidents. (And even the death of a president).

Pluto and Mars are conjunct in the 12th House, indicating hidden factors and collusion, secrecy. This factor is intensified by the sextile from Venus and the Moon to the Pluto/Jupiter conjunction, indicating that it is all too easy in our country to be able to function on the sly. Venus is one of the signs that indicates money in terms of the love of money, while the Moon indicates our emotional attitudes. These two planets are in Sagittarius, which intensifies and exaggerates the situation. When there is a bad president, these dysfunctions become much more obvious.

So what's going on in our country right now? Uranus is at 5° Gemini and is actually trining the Pluto/Mars conjunction in the 12th House. Ordinarily this would be an excellent transit, but in this case Uranus is offering unexpected opportunities of collusion and dishonesty to the people acting covertly because of the Pluto/Mars conjunction in the 12th House. Uranus is getting ready to leave the Third House, which in mundane astrology represents the Post Office, the travel industry, and education. These institutions are under stress right now. Uranus will be leaving this House in a couple years and perhaps there will be positive change in these areas when that happens.

Saturn is in the money House now and it is not surprising that people are so worried about the stocks and bonds market. Ordinarily, this would be an obvious sign of financial problems: excessive inflation or a depression. That could happen, of course. And in March, April, and May of next year Saturn makes a long, three month Trine with Saturn in the 10th House, the House of the president. I'm sure I don't have to warn anybody who has significant amounts of money to be very careful how it is being utilized.

Transiting Pluto is in the 12th House of secrets and is conjunct the Pluto/Mars conjunction that existed when the country was first formed. Consider what is happening with the executive branch of this country and the decisions that are being made that are harmful and secretive. When Pluto conjuncts Mars, beginning in 2028, there can be anger, warfare, and other devastating actions. I am concerned about this energy. I have been taught that Pluto transits can be delayed many years before they take effect, so it is hard to give a specific timeframe. There will be another presidential election in that year, just sayin'.

Unfortunately, Neptune is still in the First House of the people indicating poverty and all that goes with that. On the other hand, this planet of the ephemeral and clandestine is also trining the Moon and Venus in the 9th House of religion and law. Together with the Minor Grand Trine that I wrote about in the last issue, this Neptune Trine gives me hope. Is it possible that our current president, with all his shenanigans, is waking up the populace?

Where the mind is without fear and the head is held high;
Where knowledge is free;
Where the world has not been broken up into fragments by narrow domestic walls;
Where words come out from the depth of truth;
Where tireless striving stretches its arms
towards perfection;
Where the clear stream of reason has not lost its way into the dreary desert sand of dead habit;
Where the mind is led forward by thee into ever-widening thought and action—
Into that heaven of freedom, my Father, let my country awake.

Autumn Calendar

The Fall equinox occurs on Tuesday September 22nd, followed by a full moon on Saturday. Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are all retrograde.

Only Pluto will turn direct again at 3° on October 16th. Also in October, on the 3rd, Venus will turn retrograde, which it does every 18 months, and will last for about six weeks until November 14th. Venus traces a precise geometric pattern in the sky, returning to roughly the same place on the zodiac wheel every eight years.

And finally, Mercury will go retrograde on October 24th, turning direct in November on Friday the 13th! Just a reminder: Holiday season is approaching so make sure you make your travel (or other) plans carefully: And are you superstitious? Make allowance for that as well!

Joseph Campbell

We're in a free fall into future.
We don't know where we are going. Things are changing so fast and always, when you are going through a long tunnel, anxiety comes along. And all you have to do to transform your hell into a paradise is to turn your fall into a voluntary act. Joyful participation in sorrow and everything changes.

— From Sukhavati: Place of Bliss.

The national election is on November 3rd. Please consider carefully how you want to vote since five planets will be retrograde: Mercury, Venus, Saturn, Neptune and Pluto! That's troubling.

In December, Saturn turns direct on the 10th, and Neptune turns direct on the 12th. And on the 13th Jupiter goes retrograde. The Winter Solstice occurs on Monday, December 21st.
